

THE KAISER BLUES

WORDS BY

J. C. JONES.

MUSIC BY

FRANK W. FORD

J. C. JONES

Laurinburg,

N. C.

THE KAISER BLUES

Words by J. C. Jones

Music by Frank W. Ford.

Moderalo.

Now lis-ten folks, We have got a fun-ny sto-ry _____ We went to send it Now lis-ten boys, We have got to stop this wor-ry _____ We got to stop it all a - round this world. _____ It's a - bout that migh-ty kai - ser in his all o - ver this world. _____ So we all must get to - geth - er and put aw-ful war ring While he died and went to Hea - ven one night And he did not ev - en things in a whirl.. Let's give him what he can - not for - get A lit - tle some thing he will Copyright 1918 by J. C. Jones, Laurinburg N.C.

o - pen the door be - fore old Saint Pe - ter The ru - ler said: your home's be - low. He went be - low and received a al - ways re - gret. We want to stop his smiles And make him do our will and turn His laugh in - to great big burning fright When the Dev - il and his An - gels refused to fight. He smacks his hands when he thinks he's got things tears. Let's stir the old time pep for we know we are right. And put the might - y Kai - ser to a hast - go - ing Smiles to his self and says: We got this whole world rowing But we think we'll change his mind in a

- y flight? We got to do this thing if we want our lib - er - ty No no loop - ing on the job We must cer - tain length of time When he hears what the Sam - mys say.

from this might - y mob Back where the world can rest with peace.

Chorus

-3-

Boys we got to — send the Kai-ser nothing — but the Kais-er Blues. Let's send him back boys where he be-longs; — For ev'-ry bo-dy knows the Kai-ser's in wrong. —

It may be — heav-en we can't tell. —

But where we —

— whip the Kai-ser we all will be well. We got to send the Kaiser — with nothing but the Kai-ser blues: —