

THE BLUES HAVE GOT ME

Words and Music by ROY TURK
and
ABNER SILVER

Published by
IRVING BERLIN INC.
1607 Broadway, New York City

MADE IN U. S. A.

The Blues Have Got Me

by Roy Turk
& Abner Silver

Mod^{to}

Vamp

Voice

My grand-dad and Mammy loved to hear a I'll ad-mit there's mu-sic in an old time cel-lo's plain-tive moan Ja-ther was an or-ganmas-ter's sym-phon-y But we've all got sep'-rate ist How he ate up Chopin and Liszt I guess I am taste And to me it's simply a waste If they'd on-ly

Just the music black sheep of my family classics don't mean a thing at sync-o-pate a little it would do for me but in every thing they all — give me a hot band in a hall wrote — there aint a syn-co-pated note

Chorus
 A wicked sax-o-phone could make me roam from home to hear it p.f.

blow, the blues have got me the blues have got me I don't know what it has but what it has it has me on the go the blues have got me the blues have got me classics are great for the hightbrows who crave for it it's not in my line

'Jazz up to date' now I'll state I'm a slave to it the kind that would make a horse throw a-way his hay, hey! A Ba-by grand is grand but grander is a low-down in-strument a trombone chills me a Banjo kills me and when a Cor-net goes "Owah" I'm in for the night! good night I like my music hot I ain't pre-ten-din' may-be

I'm what you call a syn-co-pat-ri-ot-ic Ba-by I'm off my nut a-bout the strut the blues have got me

1 now 2 now 3

