

YOU'LL NEVER NEED A DOCTOR NO MORE

by CHRIS. SMITH.

Introduced by

Bert Williams

in his 1921 riot

⁶⁶BROADWAY
BREVITIES⁹⁹

Obtain this for your

EVE COST ADAM JUST ONE BONE
SAVE A LITTLE DRAM FOR ME
YOU'LL NEVER NEED A DOCTOR NO MORE

STARMER

You'll Never Need A Doctor No More

BY CHRIS. SMITH

Moderato

Piano

I s'pose you all have heard of Doc-tor Fo-jo Bones - A Ma - lin - da Jen-kins whis-per'd this to Dea-con Jones - Said ver - y bit - ter en - e - my to Dea - con Jones - Tues - day ev - 'ning Dea - con

she You am a fool to send for Doc - tor Bones - Don't you know - the Doc - tor's

Jones took sick - And seems he had to send for Doc - tor Fo - jo quick - sore on you - He loved the wid - ow Brown, you kind o' liked her too -

On the Dea - con's face was a dis - tress - ful frown - In - di - ges - tion had wore him down - The Mem - ber'twas pe - cu - liar how her hus - band died - Way he suff - er'd all the neigh - bors cried - His Doc-tor said — "Oh! it's you I have to cure, Well here's what I'll pre-scribe to fix you sure: — chance for life — Oh! 'twas might - y might - y slim, And here's what Doc - tor Bones pre-scribed for him: —

Chorus

Some green cu - cum - bers, some stewed tripe rare — Roast pork, can - te - lope and A wat - er - mel - on and peach ice cream — Sour milk, ap - ple sauce and

Be - vo beer — Half a doz - en crabs, two lob - sters broiled — Ba - spin - ach green — Pud - din', prunes and rice, a half cooked shad — A na - nas and fish — But let the fish be spoiled — A cold sto - rage chick - en and doz - en of eggs — And let just twelve be bad — Some corned beef and cab - bage, some hot corn bread — That's a sei - en - ti - fic cure — If you eat ev - ry - thing — I am li - ma beans — Is - n't that an aw - ful cure — Brownie ate ev - ry - thing that was tell - in' you to eat, You'll nev - er need a Doc - tor no more. — told to him to eat, Now he'll nev - er need a Doc - tor no more. —