When peace was de-clared young Near the coun-try school stood

Si-las heard the whis-tle from the old saw mill,— He said to Maw and Maud the mule, she brayed when she heard the noise,— The farm-ers all joined dear old Paw, "By heck! they've got old Bill,"— Si had been back from the in the march with hay-racks filled with boys; The old tin cans they front three days,— so he phoned his girl up town,— "The war is done, so I'll banged a-long,— as Si-las led the crowd,— He gave three cheers, for the
