day I land-ed here, By a cheap ex-cur-sion train be-cause it wasn't dear, hav-n't had a drink, I feel in-clined to push the Pram - bu - la - tor down a sink, thought it jol - ly fine, Told me all my life that I should have the best of wine,"

Left me at the sta-tion, told me not to fret, While he went to look for rooms, he's
But I think the best thing for ba-by, pret-ty lamb, Is shove it on the par-ish, then I But on me, for champagne, he's never spent a "quid," The on-ly wine that I get is the look-ing for 'em yet. That's ex-act-ly twen-ty hours a-go; I think I'll pawn the "Pram." He's done this thing ma-ny ma-ny times, "whin-ing" of the "kid." It ain't fair, no fare for the train have I, I'll thought some-how he was-n't com-ing back, But when I do lay hold of him there's Run a-way and left me, what a life! I'll bet while I'm a walking round a-have to walk, I have-n't got a "cent," I'm fif-ty mile a-way from home, but going to be some fun, I on-ly want to get up-on his track.

look-ing af-ter him, He's look-ing af-ter some-one-else's wife.
when I do get there, I'll take a lodg-er in to pay the rent.

CHORUS.

It ain't all honey and it ain't all jam, Pushing round the houses a three-wheel "Pram",

All on my lone-some, not a bit to eat, Walk-ing a-bout on my poor old feet.

My old man, if I could find him, A lesson I would give, Poor old me, I hav-n't got a key, And I don't know where I live. It live.
