

JUST AT THE BREAK OF DAY

WORDS AND MUSIC
BY
HARRY J. LINCOLN

COMPOSED OF
HEAVENS AN' HELL! MARCH
PRIM LITTED MARCH
SOUTHERN DREAM WALTZES
ETC. ETC. ETC.

PUBLISHED BY VANDERLOOT
MUSIC CO.
Wilmington, N.C.
Perin & Co.

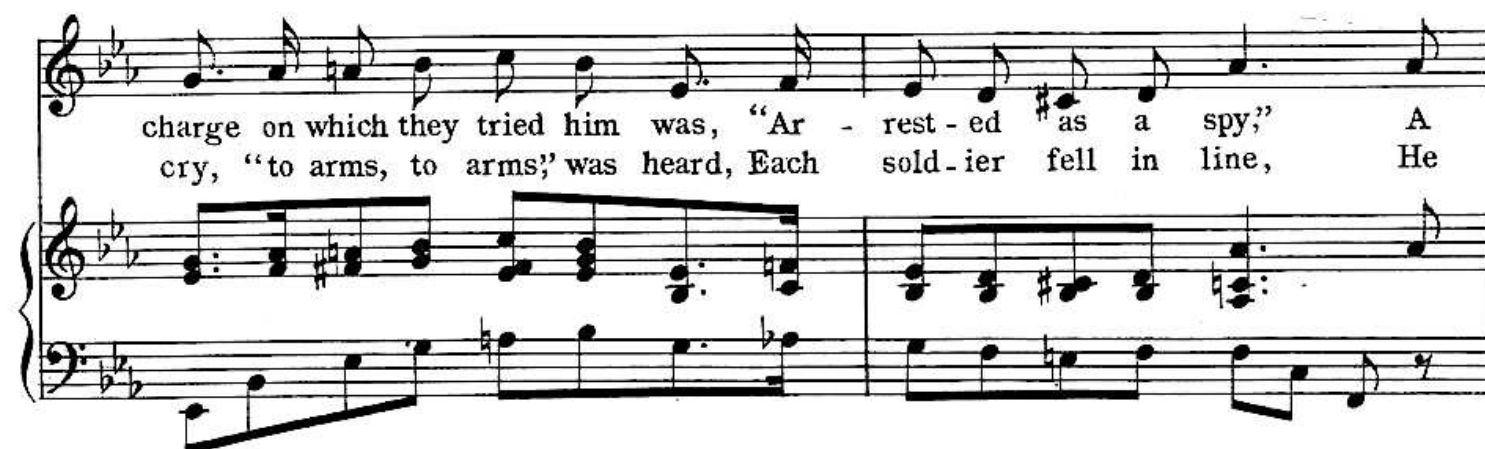

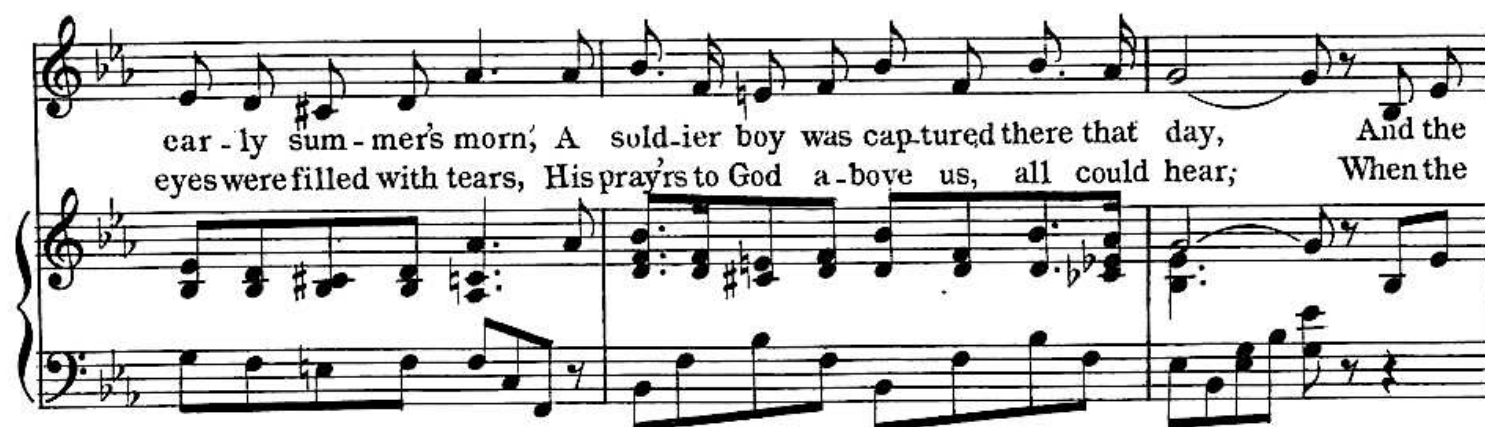

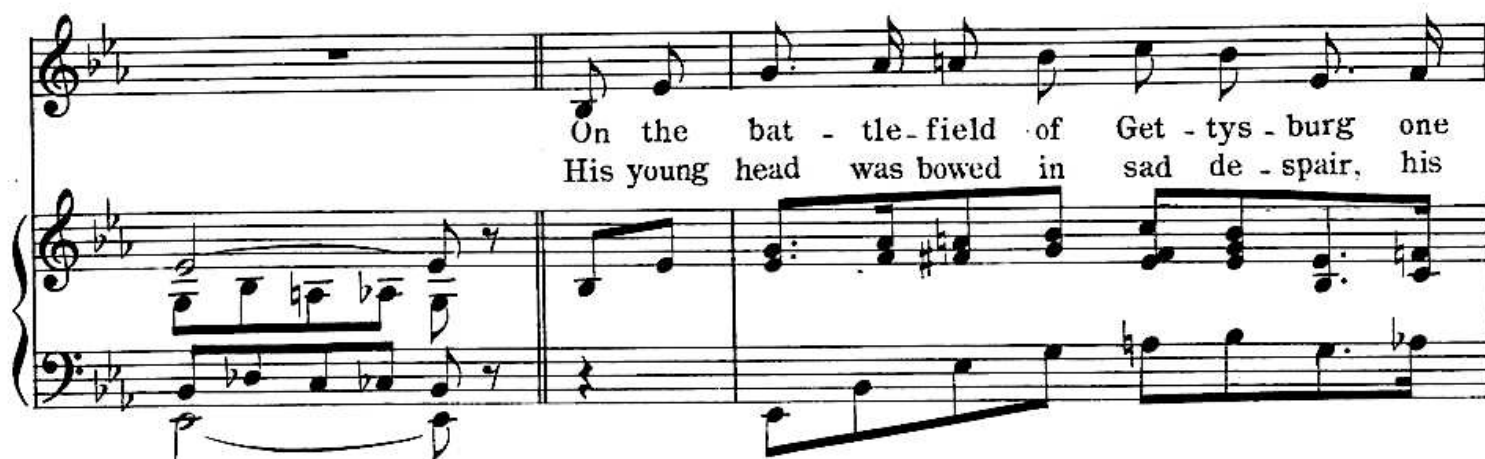

5

WILLIAM

Just At The Break Of Day.

Words & Music by HARRY J. LINCOLN.

Moderato.

Copyright MCMV by Vandersloot Music Co. Williamsport Pa.

Williamsport Pa. Chicago.

Toronto.

New York.

Entered according to the Act of Parliament of Canada in the year MCMV by Vandersloot Music Co at the Department of Agriculture.

gal - lant he - ro of our U. S. A. The soft - ly mur - mured "good-bye moth - er dear." His court has passed his sen - tence "And at sun - rise you must die;" At thought turned back to boy - hood days, A child at moth - ers knee, "May break of day they marched him far a - way, To the ex - e - cu - tion sta - tion, where no God protect her where she is to - day", And while rays of sun - shine soft - ly fell and one could ven - ture in, To meet his death just at the break of day.

played up - on his hair, He bade good-bye then quick - ly passed a - way.

CHORUS.

Just as the day-light was break - ing, Just as the sun-light shone, —

There in the still of the morn - ing Went to his God on the throne, —

Up to the fold of his Mak - er, Then you could hear them say —

He bade good bye with a tear, a sigh, Just at the break of day. —