Moderato

Piano

There is a Ro-me-o I'll nev-er for-get —
He fol-lowed one young mammy 'round for a week —

For years he's tried to win a sweet Ju-li-et — But some-how And tho' she'd smile at him she nev-er would speak — No mat-ter

all the girls re-fuse him, He nev-er met one yet who'd how he kept on teas-in', She would-n't do a thing to choose him. Still ev-'ry - time a girl - ie walks down the street—please him. But just like glue he stuck right close to her side—

— This same old line of chat-ter, You'll hear him shout-in' at her:
 — He fig-ured she would weak-en, If he would keep on speak-in':

Chorus

Hey! Mam-my, tell pap-py, Say mam-my, tell pap-py, whose ba-by are you?—

p-f

— Hey! mam-my who be ya? Say, mam-my, I see ya,
 — Hey! mam-my those glanc-es, Make pap-py take chanc-es,

Why play peek - a - boo? You're one of na - tures pret - ty You're tempt - ing me too, I know you must be - long to daugh - ters, Why should I live in bach - 'lor quart - ers, some - one, Still I keep ask - ing like a dumb - one,

Make pap - py, feel hap - py, Hey! mam - my, tell pap - py, Whose Make pap - py, feel hap - py, Hey! mam - my, tell pap - py, Whose

ba - by are you? you?
 ba - by are you? you?
