

LISTEN TO THE KNOCKING BIRD

WORDS AND MUSIC BY HERBERT INGRAHAM

5

Published by

"Shapiro"

MUSIC
PUBLISHER

Cor. Broadway & Thirty Ninth Street,
New York.

STARRER

"Listen to the Knocking Bird."

Words and Music by HERBERT INGRAHAM.

INTROD.
Moderato.

On Piano Lid.

"Look here Miss Lee,—
'Lize and her man,—

Vamp till ready.

p

what can you see— In that man you're goin' to wed?
went in to see— An am - a - teur show one night.

He is the most de - spis - a - ble man, In the world I've heard it
To their sur - prise Bill came on the stage, Sang a song with all his said; ——— He has - n't brains the Lord gave a goose, A might; ——— Li - za said: "Hon — go on now get square, Just face like an on - ion pie!" ——— But 'Li - za just smiled, Bill yell get the hook real plain," ——— As Bill felt the hook a - near went wild, When she of - fered this — re - ply: ——— round his neck, The Band played the An - vil strain:

CHORUS.

"Oh! lis-ten to the Knock-ing_ bird, A most dis-taste-ful fowl, I'd p=f On Piano Lid.

soon-er be that oth-er_ bird, that they call the wise old owl; _____ The

An-vil Cho - rus may sound fine, But that Knock-er's_ tune don't go for mine, Oh!

lis-ten to the Knock-ing_ bird, A most dis-taste-ful fowl!" "Oh fowl!"

On Piano Lid.