You've Got The Rag-i-ri-tis

Lyric by
J. GRANT GIBSON.

Music by
FRED HYLANDS

Moderato. mf Vamp. p

Have you heard a-bout the Ep-i-dem-ic that has struck the town? It is my - Rag-i-ri-tis was dis-cov-ered first a-mong the col-ored race. This thing out

-ster-i-ous, It's get-ting ser-i-ous, When it hits you then it makes you act just ra-ge-ous, Be-came con-tag-i-ous, And when the white folks got it all the like a cra-zy clown, You get hi-lar-i-ous— And then de-ler-i-ous,— You coons were in disgrace, They tried to cage 'em. Which did en-rage 'em. Just quick - ly send for Doc - tor Quack to di - ag - nose your case, He like a lot of lun - a - tics you'd see them mad - ly prance, And takes a sing le glance then looks you grave - ly in the face, And squirm and wig gle, just as if they had St. Vit - as dance, And says I'm sor - ry but I'll have to Quar - an - tine the place, For you've folks would yell be - cause they know the symp - toms at a glance, Well you've got it yes you've got it, you've got the Rag - i - ri - tis. got it yes you've got it, you've got the Rag - i - ri - tis.

Chorus.

You've got the Rag - i - ri - tis, The Rag - i - ri - tis, And p-f

when you've got it bad, It's worse than Pen - de - cit - is, When you hear sweet mus - ic play - ing, And your bo - dy starts a sway - ing And a feel - ing comes a steal - ing, till it set your brain a reel - ing, Then your eyes they start a pop - pin', And a - round the floor your hop - pin' Then your fing - ers start a snap - pin', That's a sign it's goin' to hap - pen, For you've got it, yes you've got it, That's the way to tell you've got the Rag - i - ri - tis. you've ri - tis.
