

NIFTY LITTLE JANE

Novelty Song

By
A. E. KANSTON

A. F. MARZIAN
MUSIC PUBLISHER
NEW ALBANY, IND.

Nifty Little Jane

AULYN KANSTON

Moderato

TILL READY.

The day is fine, you
You get a card to take a stroll A - long the A - ven - ue, To be a guest At some swell din - ner dance. You see the girls walk up and down The street to show that rent a suit, a full dress suit, A new silk hat and in octaves ad lib.

brand new gown. It seems that all the folks you know, Are all the rest. Down at the ball with pret - ty Jane, You out to say "How - do." But bye and bye you start to dance a - round, When some old stag breaks

(Spoken)

mf

rit.

meet the one Who most ap - peals to you.
in on you, And beats your time right there. Oh! (Spoken)

rit. fz

CHORUS

Nif - ty Jane, win-some Jane, Cu-test of girl-ies you

p-ff

know, How those eyes tan - tal - ize,

Get you on the go. Sweet-est Jane,

dear-est Jane, She is the queen of them all. They're all in love with her, you know, How they stare, ev - 'ry - where. At sight of her they whis - tle, so: (whistle)

Oh you nif - ty lit - tle Jane, How she keeps the fel - lows guessing, Yet they say she is a blessing, This tan - ta - liz - ing nif - ty Jane. — Jane. —