Moderato

A "Cul-lud" Sis-ter known for Jazz-dance Fame Took sick-a-bed one day with aw-ful Pain
They warn'd the Sis-ter that she had one chance To live if she would stop that Jazz-in' Dance

The first system of the song features a vocal melody in the right hand and piano accompaniment in the left hand. The piano part consists of a steady eighth-note bass line and chords in the right hand. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.

They called the Doc-tors in from far and wide They held a con-sul-tation to de-cide
She say's you "Saw-Bones" all be on your way They shook their heads and left her in dis-may

The second system continues the vocal melody and piano accompaniment. The piano part maintains the same rhythmic pattern as the first system.

Got out their knives to cut her Jazz-in' out But from the Sis-ter came a hus-ky shout
She lay back on the bed and heaved a sigh The neighbors gather'd 'round to see her die

The third system continues the vocal melody and piano accompaniment. The piano part maintains the same rhythmic pattern as the first system.

There'll be no op-er-a-tion "No Sir-ree" If I got to die I'll take my Jazz a-long with me.
She say's "No use to weep, be of good cheer" Cause I'm gon-na do the same thing there that I done here.

rit.

The fourth system concludes the song with a vocal melody and piano accompaniment. The piano part includes a 'rit.' (ritardando) marking. The lyrics are written below the vocal line.
