

JAPANETTE

by Charlotte Salisbury

CHARLOTTE SALISBURY

6
PUBLISHED BY
WILL ROSSITER
THE CHICAGO PUBLISHER
71 W. RANDOLPH ST. CHICAGO, ILL.
Copyright 1927 by Will Rossiter

JAPANETTE

Words and Music by
CHARLOTTE SALISBURY.

Allto Modto (Slowly)

mf fz mf mp

Bless-ed was the night, And each o - ri - en - tal light When I met you at the
On our hon - ey moon, And I hope it will be soon We are go - ing to the o - ri - en - tal mas - quer - ade In my dress and silk - en cap, land of flow - ers, old Ja - pan There each lone - ly lan - tern bright,

I was such a lone - some chap, and you were a Ja - pa - nese
Will re - mind me of the night, we kissed 'neath your Ja - pa - nese maid In Ja-pa-nese I greet-ed you; With a bash-ful, "how de' do," and fan- I long the day you're goin' to be My own lit-tle Ja-pa-nee, so you smiled at me Ro-mance filled the air

love-ly to see Soft night winds will sigh

Laugh-ter ev-ry where, When I told my love to thee.
No one will be nigh, When I tell my love to thee.

CHORUS

Ja-pa-nette I sim-ply can't for-get the time that we first met

rit. a tempo

When I said, "how de' do?" I knew that I was goin' to love you When we danced My soul just felt en-tranced I knew you would-n't scold me, if I told you that I loved you And I made my-self a bet That I would win you Ja-pa - nette. nette. D. S.

fz fz D. S.