Till Ready

I nev-er thought a girl could come a-long, —
All wom-en say a man must have a heart, —

And wor-ry me the way you do, — I used to tell them, all, to
That he looks fool-ish when he cries, — That he should laugh at ev-'ry run a-long, — But what a fool I've been since I met you: — knock he gets, — And nev-er shed a tear or heave a sigh: —

Chorus

Now, I met girls — who near-ly drove me craz-y, — and I met girls — who had me feel-ing blue, — I met a few — who had me guess-ing,

And I am con-fess-ing, al-most broke my heart in two. — I met a I know just girl — Who made me think she loved me, — I thought I'd die — the day she said good-one — That I will love for - ev - er, — I can't for-get — the day she said goodbye; — But of all the girls the man-y girls I ev-er met, — You're the bye; — There is just one girl I love the best, my Moth-er dear, — She's the on - ly girl that made me cry. Now, I met cry.

on - ly girl that made me cry.
