1. Ev'-ry-thing must have an end So the po - ets
2. When we lose some - one we love With heartaches we say Our ro - mance like all the rest Will end some sor - ry pay But I guess it's for the best That things turn out that day But be-fore that end draws near, I'd like to whisper in your ear way If we part, I wonder who Will be in my place with you

CHORUS

Who'll take my place— in your heart when I'm gone—

Who'll know the bliss— of your kiss— from then on—

Who's gon-na share— each sor - row and care— What 'll you do when ev-er you're blue, There is n't a one who will love you like I do Who'll take my place in your won - der - ful arms Who will em - brace all your won - der - ful charms And who'll al - ways be true and be - lieve just in you Tell me, who'll take my

1. place when I'm gone. 2. gone.
